Steve,

Thanks for your interest in Madera Canyon.

We have a car counter on the road at the entrance to the canyon. In 2008, we had 66,533 cars enter the canyon. The Forest Service estimates an average of 3 people per car so that would make a total estimated number of visitors to the canyon about 200,000 per year. Hope this helps you.

Cheers,

George

I am trying to get information on the number of visitors to Madera Canyon on an annual basis. Does your organization track visitation numbers throughout the year?

Thank you for your help.
